THE WEATHER. Conditions

Barometric pressure continues low over all parts of the country. This pressure distribution has resulted in a condition of moderately warm weather over nearly all districts east of the Rocky mountains and it has been attended generally by fair weather, except that there have been widely scattered showers in New Bugland. The indications are that there will be generally fair weather in the east during Thursday and Friday. The temperature will change little during the next 48 hours.

NORWICH WOMEN SPENT NIGHT IN RESTAURANT

Their Automobile Broke Down and They Were Unable to Get in Touch With It Later.

It's bad to be left at the church New London as delegates from that city to attend the meeting of the Po-cohontas auxiliary of the Improved Order of Red Men. They started from Norwich in the automobile of the hus-band of the youngest of the party, but before they had gotten very far an accident occurred to the machine and the women were obliged to come to New London by trolley. They arriv-ed here at 7 o'clock and at 8 attended the meeting. Following that they made an effort to communicate with the owner of the automobile but he could not be located. He had promiscould not be located. He had promis-ed wifey that he would come to New London as quickly as he could make repairs and take the party home.
All night long they sat in a State

Water and Aqueduct Company Granted Permanent Injunction Restraining Use of Watershed for Pionics.

A decision has been given by Judge said Wednesday's New London Telegraph, but sometimes just as bad to be left in a restaurant, especially if you are left there all night. That is what happened to four women from Company against Louis Koelsch and Norwich Monday night who came to New London as delegates from that porary injunction restraining the de-fendants from using certain land or the east shore of Snipsic lake for publle picnic purposes, asked that the same be made permanent. The temporary infunction was obatined a couple of years ago, after the defendants had operated the park three days for pub-to picnic purposes.

The case has since been in the courts and the attorneys have had several dashes on motions and demurrers. Judge Webb grants the application of the water company, making the ininction permanent and restraining the junction permenent and restraining the defendants from using their grounds for public picnics. The court allows the defendants damages of $1,800. The judge in his memorandum states that it was not attempted to show that just the short time the grounds were used had served to contaminate the water, but finds that if the defendants were allowed to continue the use of same for ter Rehn, but all he cuold do was .o tell them they would be as safe in the but finds that if the defendants were allowed to continue the use of same for that purpose, as they stated they intended to do, the water of the lake would be liable to become polluted. The counsel for the water company is Charles Phelps, while the defendants were represented at the trial by ex-Mayor Henney of Hartford and ex-Judge Bill of Hartford.

FINDS THAW SANE Jury Out 48 Minutes-Thaw Will Know Friday Whether He Will Obtain Liberty. New York, July 14.—Harry Kendall Thaw today was declared sane by a jury which for nearly three weeks listened to testimony given in the Supreme Court here before Justice Peter Hendrick. Forty-eight minutes were consumed and two ballots were taken in reaching the verdict.

taken in reaching the verdict. Justice Hendrick on Friday morning will announce whether the commit-ment upon which Thaw was incarcerated in the state hospital for the criminal insane at Matteawan shall be vacated, thereby giving to the slay-er of Stanford White the liberty for which has fought in the courts for nine years.

stration. It was at the end of a day of ad dresses by counsel and the charge of the justice that the jury retired. While the twelve men were deliberat-ing the crowd in the court room and about the court house was augment ed by scores of people who believed that a verdict quickly would be found. Shortly before four o'clock a bailing came from the jury room and in-formed Justice Hendrick that a verdict had been reached. The doors immediately were locked and Justice Hendrick ascending the bench, warned the spectators that any demonstration would be met with severe punishment. Then the jury came in. In reply to a question by the clerk of the court as to whether a verdict had been reached the foreman handed over a sheet of legal paper, which was passed to the Justice on the bench Justice Hendrick read it and handed it back to the clerk.

"Gentlemen of the jury," said the clerk, "the question you have been asked is this: Is Harry K. Thaw sane? Your answer is yes." Despite the warning several persons stood up in front of the seats. The court room hummed like a dynamo. Justice Hendrick and a dozen court attendants rapped for order. Thaw Kissed His Mother.

Meanwhile Thaw, who until the verdict was announced sat at the counsel table with his chin sesting in a handkerchief, had turned around and grasped the hand of several of his counsel. Then he went to where his mother was sitting a few fee away, and throwing his arms abou her -neck kissed her twice.

that he had not given his decision and that consequently it had not been finally decided which side might desire an appeal.

He then set 11 o'dlock tomorrow morning as the time when he would receive briefs and hear arguments in his chambers upon the motion to dismiss the committment. As soon as the yary was dismissed Thaw crossed to the box and shook hands warmly with the jury. His mother also shook hands with the jurymen, saying to each: "Thank you so much for all that you have done." The jury and Thaw then filed into a room adjoining the court where photographers were awaiting. Thaw himself moved the benches and chairs around in the room so that he and all the jurymen might get into the picture. It was with great difficulty that court attendants and deputy sheriffs prevented scores of men and women from dashing up to Thaw in the court room and the ante room and shaking his hand in congratulation of his legal victory.
